Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)

The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)

The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)

The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)

The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.

Words of the Prophets

Recently some of us have embarked upon a study of 1 & 2 Kings. God's word follows the history of kings from David to the divided kingdom to the fall of Jerusalem at the hands of the Babylonians. It has stories of battles, alliances, tyrants and a few benevolent kings. If one is not careful, you might miss the greatest part of the story: God. God intervenes for the sake of the righteous and to punish the vile, a protection for many and judgment on others. The story of these two books is the providential will of God even in the midst of faithfulness or rebellion. In this story is also the voices of the Prophets, men like Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Micaiah and others. In a time when swords, spears and chariots seemed to rule the world, prophets spoke for God, calling people to change, giving some people hope and condemning the destruction of both bodies and souls in that world. It was not an option for these voices but it was their duty to speak for God.

So much has changed since then. No longer is there this "theocracy" called Israel. God's kingdom is among us throughout the world. I have brothers that speak so many languages but we all have the same Savior, Jesus Christ our Lord. As Revelation says: "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." Rev. 11:15. It was Daniel who foretold the coming of the kingdom through the church beginning in the days of Rome and continuing as long as this world exists: "In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not be left for another people; it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, but it will itself endure forever." Dan. 2:44. Yet we see a world still in the grips of chaos. "The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies."

Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power;" Ps. 110:2-3 (Matt. 22:44)
The swords, spears and chariots are today ships, tanks and jets, sometimes even electronic media. AI and CGI technology is a power we cannot imagine. Tomorrow's history books may tell the stories of the "great powers" of Presidents, dictators and CEOs. But what about that providential will of God in the midst of both faith and rebellion? Today as it was in ancient days, God reigns! "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap." Gal. 6:7

But you might ask: "Where are the voices of the prophets?" Scripture is complete. We await no new message other than that which has been delivered (Gal. 1:6). The prophets have always had one singular task: Speak the word of God, announce the hope of faith, call people to seek life as God designed. As Jude tells us: "I felt the necessity to write to you appealing that you contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all handed down to the saints." Jude 3.

You and I are the voices of the prophets. In the midst of so much power, so many strong voices, you might be praying for a champion, a president, or some great hero. What God in his wisdom has chosen is you! You and I are the voices of the prophets, we are the sound of hope. Singer Paul Simon wrote that "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls." But those are the world's prophets. God tells you and me: "you are a letter of Christ, cared for by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts." 2 Cor. 3:3.

You are the voice of the prophets. Who is worthy? No one. Who is required? You.
